School Board of Milton.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the School Board of Milton :

GENTLEMEN: I herewith respectfully submit to you and to the citizens of Milton my third annual report of the schools of the district.

Attendance

The per cent of attendance in all schools of the district for the year ending July 15, 1907, was 87.14. We call on all parents to help in the important work of improving the attendance for this present year.

Below is a tabular statement of the standing of each school for the year, given in the order of excellence:

School.	Per Cent of Attendance.	Number of Tardinesses.	Number Per Pupil.
Milton Mills, High and Grammar,	88.88	22	1
Nute's Ridge,	88.52	40	3
Milton, Grades VII and VIII,	88.39	10	.6
“ V and VI,	87.56	95	3
“ III and IV,	87.55	122	3
Plummer's Ridge,	87.37	55	5
Milton Mills, Primary,	84.58	266	6.82
South,	84.25	19	1.58
Branch,	83.11	68	5
Milton, Grades I and II,	82.08	30	.65

After making reasonable allowance for sickness, difficult travelling, and unavoidable delays, I am convinced that many of the absences and tardinesses recorded were unnecessary and could have been avoided had there been a proper appreciation, on the part of the home, of constant, regular and punctual attendance. It is impossible for a child to do good work in school if his attendance is uncertain, and under such conditions no parent can look for anything but unsatisfactory progress. School going should be the business of every child of school age during the school year, and he should attend to that business every day.

The present enrollment of pupils is as follows: Milton 127; Milton Mills 68; Plummer's Ridge 9; Nute's Ridge 9; West Milton 12; South Milton 11; Total 236.

The following pupils have a record of perfect attendance for the year:

Milton Mills, Grammar, Edwina E. Fox.

Milton, Grades V and VI, Theron W. Avery, Carroll T. M. Merrow, Catherine R. Willey.

Milton, Grades VII and VIII, Florence S. Bodge, Harold B. Pinkham.

Teachers

The changes in the teaching force have been many. At Milton Mills, we were fortunate in retaining Mr. Leatherbarrow and Miss Meserve, who have continued their good work. At Milton, the teachers of the three lower rooms resigned in the summer, and the school board was confronted with the difficult task of filling these positions. Miss Williams was transferred from South Milton to grades I and II; Miss Grace E. Harwood, who had had three years' experience, was elected to grades III and IV, and Miss Bertha W. Dean, a graduate of the Lowell Normal School, to grades V and VI. Superintendent and school board were profoundly grateful to secure the continued services of Mr. Looney, principal of the building and teacher of the grammar room.

Miss Dollie Wallace and Miss Jane Hayes, graduates of the Nute High School, were chosen to fill vacancies at South Milton and Nute's Ridge respectively. Miss Marguerite Ellison of Farmington, a graduate of the Providence High School, was elected to Plummer's Ridge, and Miss Mildred Fogg, a graduate of Gorham Normal School, to the Branch.

The problem of securing teachers has become a serious one. It is not merely a local or state problem, it is a national one. Many schools in this state were closed for weeks at a time during the past year for lack of teachers. The problem which many superintendents and school boards have had to solve has not been the securing of the right kind of a teacher but rather that of securing any kind of a teacher. Under the circumstances we may consider ourselves extremely fortunate.

This scarcity of teachers has been one reason for the larger salaries it is necessary to pay teachers. Furthermore the cost of living has increased rapidly in the past years. Board, room, clothing, education, in fact everything calls for more money. We are requiring a high standard of fitness and preparation, all of which means additional cost. Therefore teachers everywhere are demanding and receiving greater remuneration for services. We in Milton are obliged to pay higher salaries and therefore the cost of maintaining our schools is greater. But we can practice economy in no better way than by hiring good teachers at good salaries. It should be our policy to keep, if possible, all deserving teachers in our schools.

Finances

The foregoing table needs this explanation. The amount raised by the town includes both the legal tax and all special appropriations for repairs, books, etc. The expenditures for books, as stated, include all payments on that account, the receipts from the Nute high school for rent of books not having been deducted, as it was impossible to determine these receipts for the earlier years. It is to be noted, therefore, that the cost per pupil for books is not accurate, but as all these amounts are computed in the same manner, they serve satisfactorily for comparison.

By studying this table we learn these facts:

1. The length of the school year has been increased about one-third in the last ten years. Whereas ten years ago it was a fraction over 27 weeks, it is now 36 weeks. This accounts for much of the increase in the cost of maintaining our schools.

2. There has been an increase in the amount paid for teachers and transportation. Ten years ago the cost was about $114 per week; this year it has averaged about $120. This is due to the larger salaries which teachers are demanding and receiving, the country over. It is unavoidable.

3. There has been a material reduction in the expenditures for books and supplies in the last five years. The expenditure per pupil this year was less than one-half the expenditure five years ago.

4. There has been a slight increase in the cost per week to maintain schools. The increase this year over last was due to large expenditures for repairs, and to the placing of insurance on school buildings at a cost of $100. The term of each of these policies is three years.

It was impossible to make a comparison of the expenditures for fuel, janitors and repairs, as these items were not kept separate in the earlier records.

In the following statement of appropriations recommended by the school board, it is to be noted that $100 less is asked for than was appropriated last year.

In my last report I recommended the adoption of a uniform text-book in arithmetic for use in all the schools. The suggested change was made and the Southworth-Stone arithmetic introduced in September. This was the only change of significance made during the year. The little text-book, With Pen and Pencil, has been adopted for the language work of the third year. The reading material has been increased by a few purchases and exchanges, and the Tarr & McMurray geography introduced as far as the seventh year. This coming year it is proposed to complete this introduction. I would suggest further that a change be made in history. There are not sufficient copies of any one book to supply all pupils. Although it is desirable for pupils to have access to a variety of books, there should be some one basal book.

Every year there is a large expenditure for the purchase of the ordinary supplies, such as paper, crayon, pencils, pens, etc. and of books to replace those which have become unfit for use through wear. Books will wear out even with careful usage. An effort has been made to teach children to practice economy in the use of paper, and to impress upon them their obligation to use carefully books loaned them by the town. We have seen an improvement in this particular.

I see no reason why an appropriation of $300, the same as last year, should not be sufficient.

Improvements

The exterior of the school building at Milton has been painted, and at Nute's Ridge the building has been painted inside and out. The result is a decided improvement in appearance in both buildings. Several minor repairs were also made at Nute's Ridge. The total cost of the painting was approximately $175, which was the largest expenditure for repairs. There is no call for a large outlay on any building this next year. The school board asks for an appropriation of $200, which should easily cover the cost of cleaning the buildings and of making those small repairs which from time to time are necessary.

Insurance of $3,000 has been placed on the building at Milton, and $2,000 at Milton Mills.

West Milton

At the opening of the term in April the school board was confronted with the often recurring problem in West Milton. The conditions were these: There were four pupils in the original Goodwinville district, one in the Hare Road, and two in the Downingville, so distributed that it was a difficult matter to bring them together into one school. The school board called a meeting of the interested people for consultation at the Hare Road School, but only one parent attended. It was decided to transport all pupils to the Nute's Ridge School, and this plan was carried out during the spring term. Similar arrangements were made for the fall term, but conditions changed soon after its opening. The number of pupils was enlarged by new families moving into the district, and the school board found it difficult to secure conveyance. As a result the school at West Milton was opened, necessitating the transportation of but two pupils. At present there is an enrollment of twelve, although scarlet fever has reduced the actual membership to seven.

Milton Mills

The attempt at Milton Mills to do the eight years' work of the grades and the first year of high school work with but two teachers was not satisfactory. Programs were overcrowded, recitations were hurried, and the pupils did not make the progress we have a right to expect, and which more favorable conditions make possible. An improvement was made in October by employing an assistant, Mrs. Harriet Leatherbarrow, who devotes three hours a day to the school, the time being divided evenly between the pupils of the upper room and those of the lower room. This arrangement has relieved the over-crowded programs and the over-worked teachers. The old supply and book room was fitted up, and although small, answers well the purpose of a recitation room. Under the present arrangement, the quality of the work is being improved in these schools.

Owing to the reduced numbers at the Branch School, this school was closed after the Christmas recess and the pupils are now conveyed to Milton Mills.

High School

The number of Milton pupils attending the Nute High School is thirty-one, practically the same number as were in attendance last year. Pupils entered this school in September from Milton Schools as follows:

Milton Grammar,	9
Nute's Ridge,	2
Plummer's Ridge,	1
Branch,	1
Milton Mills,	2

One additional pupil has entered from Milton Mills since the opening of the school year.

A class of five are doing the first year of high school work at Milton Mills. Two of this class are non-resident or tuition pupils. Considering the somewhat unfavorable conditions for doing this work I am pleased with the progress which the class is making. One member entering the Nute High School in the middle of the year took up the work without difficulty.

Grammar School Graduation

It is the custom to hold exercises at the close of the year and to present diplomas to the grammar school graduates at Milton. In connection with these exercises, other members of the school take part in rhetorical. I most heartily commend the custom. These exercises are of no small value to the pupils and afford to the parents not a little satisfaction and pleasure. The diploma is a reminder of work faithfully done.

I would suggest that similar exercises be held at Milton Mills and that diplomas be presented to those pupils who have successfully completed the work of the eighth grade and are prepared to take up the work of the ninth grade, or high school.

The pupils, too, of the outlying schools, who are prepared to enter the high school, are worthy of similar recognition. It could be easily arranged so that such pupils should have a part in the graduating exercises of the village schools.

The following is the order of exercises held last June at Milton. The graduation exercises were preceded by rhetorical.

Music

The work in music has been maintained at the Milton school with the usual success. Miss Dean has had charge of the work in the two upper rooms and Miss Harwood in the two lower rooms. The chorus work of the school is conducted by Mr. Looney. The excellent rendering of difficult musical selections by this school chorus at the graduating exercises revealed most thorough and painstaking work on the part of pupils and instructor. This building needs, and should have, a piano. It has been suggested that an effort be made to start a fund for the purchase of an instrument.

In the rural schools and at Milton Mills nothing has been seriously attempted in music. I regret that at the latter school overcrowded program and the reluctance of the teachers to take up the work have been responsible for the absence of any musical instruction.

Arithmetic

In the lower grades we are doing much less written work than formerly and laying more stress on the oral work. In the higher grades, too, much is made of the oral work. Pupils are drilled in quick perception work, and are taught to do simple problems in the head with rapidity and accuracy. The new series of textbooks in Arithmetic introduced in September have thus far proved satisfactory.

Hattie M. Campnell

Died August 31, 1907.

Miss Campnell taught for many years in the schools of Milton. She was a woman of high character. As a teacher she was devoted unreservedly to her work, the soul of honor, faithful almost to a fault, attending with the greatest care to the minutest details. The excellent results which she obtained bear evidence to the thoroughness of her work. These few words pay but small tribute to her work and memory.

Conclusion

It is the work of the schools to teach the children the "three R's." No school is a good school unless these subjects are well taught. It is just as truly the work of the school to train the child for life. By insisting upon the exercise of the virtues of industry, honesty, faithfulness and obedience in the daily performance of school work, important lessons are taught. To meet a difficulty squarely and to overcome it in school life fits a boy for the larger and broader life of manhood. The boy who is trained to respond promptly to the call of duty in school is being fitted for serviceable citizenship. "Bring up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart therefrom." These great lessons may be best taught not so much by talking about them as practicing them.

In our schools we are endeavoring to teach well the "three R's." We are endeavoring also to teach the boys and girls to be obedient, to be industrious, to be faithful to the present duty, and thereby to accumulate, little by little, a moral force which shall make them men and women of strength and integrity, honored and trusted. We ask of the public forbearance and co-operation in these our endeavors.

With the hope that the coming school year may see the continued progress of schools, and with feelings of gratitude for the kindly assistance of the school board, teachers and parents, this report is respectfully submitted.

CHANNING T. SANBORN,

Superintendent of Schools.
